

Search Using the Wildcard

In Matrix, the asterisk () wildcard* can be entered into free text fields in place of unknown criteria

Placing an asterisk ()* at the beginning of a free text field will display results starting with that phrase.

Placing an asterisk ()* at the end of a free text field will display results ending with that phrase.

Placing an asterisk ()* at the beginning and end of a free text field will display results with that phrase anywhere within the field.

Perform the Search

Type any known criteria into a field, and use an asterisk ()* ¹ in place of the unknown criteria

Example: A street name contains "Oak," but the rest is unknown

St#	Dir Pfx	Name	Suffix	Dir Sfx	Unit #	Zip
<input type="text"/>	<input type="text" value="v"/>	<input type="text" value="Oak*"/>	<input type="text" value="v"/>	<input type="text" value="v"/>	<input type="text"/>	<input type="text"/>

Search results contain the known criteria (Oak), and any other criteria in place of the asterisk ²
